Surrender and brokenness go hand-in-hand - spiritual brokenness is surrendering your will to God. Spiritual brokenness is knowing that, without God, you are, and can do, nothing. It is a total, desperate dependence on Him in every aspect of life. It is a cry from the depths of your soul that shouts: "God, I need You! I want You! I can't live without You! You are everything to me!" The ...

How often do we truly consider the holiness of God? Imagine—if we were to step into the radiance of God's glory right now, we would instantly melt into oblivion. And yet, by the purifying blood of Jesus, God invites us through prayer to enter His throne room. While it's true we can ask for anything, closing our prayer with the words "in Jesus' name" doesn't trick God into granting our ...

They called to him to surrender; and stated that they had him in their power, and said he had better give up. He said he would not; and if they tried to take him, he would kill one of them; for, if he gave up, he knew they would kill him, and he was determined to sell his life as dear as he could. They told him, if he should shoot one of them, the other two would certainly kill him: he replied ...
